ITEM 4: ADVISORY BUSINESS

Conlon & Dart LLC (Conlon Dart) was founded in October 2004 by Mitchell P. Conlon and Stephen H. Dart, the firm's principal owners, each of whom maintained their own investment advisory practices before establishing Conlon Dart. The firm's services include investment advisory and financial planning.

Investment Advisory Services

Conlon Dart invests according to each client's stated investment objectives. These objectives are determined by data gathering, risk assessment questionnaires and interviews during the initial financial planning process. In most instances, an Investment Policy Statement is also established, which further outlines the portfolio's investment objectives and investment restrictions, if designated.

Unless the client instructs otherwise, Conlon Dart maintains limited discretionary trading authority to invest on their behalf.

The firm uses an investment approach that includes both actively managed and passive or index-based investment strategies. Investments are primarily made in mutual funds (including institutional class when available), as well as exchange-traded mutual funds (ETFs), and individual bonds. Conlon Dart generally does not recommend individual stocks as part of its investment process, but such securities may be held in the account if requested by the client.

Generally, an agreement may be terminated upon written notice or upon transfer of the account. As of December 31, 2016, Conlon Dart managed $404,731,984. Of this amount $388,819,836 was managed on a limited discretionary basis, with the remainder being non-discretionary.

Financial Planning Services

For individual clients, Conlon Dart typically begins the relationship with a financial planning overview. This overview is initiated once Conlon Dart, along with client, have established clear goals and planning objectives. As needed, or as requested by the client, analysis may be offered for areas such as retirement planning, estate planning, education funding, tax review, insurance, benefits plan(s) and other matters specific to each client's circumstances. Typically, there are no additional fees for financial planning services.

On a case-by-case basis, Conlon Dart will accept Financial Planning engagements for individuals who are not ongoing investment management clients. These engagements are standalone, meaning they are limited in scope and not ongoing, and billed on an hourly rate or project basis.

401(k) Plan Sponsor & Pension Consulting Services

Conlon Dart offers plan-level investment consulting services for 401(k) plan sponsors. These services, which include investment menu design and performance reporting, are provided on a non-discretionary basis.

We also provide several advisory services separately or in combination. While the primary clients for these services will be pension, profit sharing and 401(k) plans, we offer these services, where appropriate, to individuals and trusts, estates and charitable organizations. Pension Consulting Services are comprised of four distinct services. Clients may choose to use any or all of these services.

- Investment Policy Statement Preparation (hereinafter referred to as "IPS")

We will meet with the client (in person or over the telephone) to determine an appropriate investment strategy that reflects the plan sponsor's stated investment objectives for management of the overall plan. Our firm then prepares a written IPS detailing those needs and goals, including an encompassing policy under which these goals are to be achieved. The IPS also lists the criteria for selection of investment vehicles as well as the procedures and timing interval for monitoring of investment performance.

- Selection of Investment Vehicles

We assist plan sponsors in constructing appropriate asset allocation models. We will then review various mutual funds (both index and managed) to determine which investments are appropriate to implement the client's IPS. The number of investments to be recommended will be determined by the client, based on the IPS.

- Monitoring of Investment Performance

We monitor client investments continually, based on the procedures and timing intervals delineated in the Investment Policy Statement. Although our firm is not involved in any way in the purchase or sale of these investments, we supervise the client's portfolio and will make recommendations to the client as market factors and the client's needs dictate.

- Employee Communications

For pension, profit sharing and 401(k) plan clients with individual plan participants exercising control over assets in their own account ("self-directed plans"), we may also provide quarterly educational support and investment workshops designed for the plan participants. The nature of the topics to be covered will be determined by us and the client under the guidelines established in ERISA Section 404(c). The educational support and investment workshops will NOT provide plan participants with individualized, tailored investment advice or individualized, tailored asset allocation recommendations.

ITEM 5: FEES & COMPENSATION

Investment Advisory Services

Conlon Dart is a 'Fee Only' firm and solely compensated by our Clients. We do not receive commissions or any other compensation from any third parties, including financial services firms.

The Client compensates Conlon Dart for its services by paying an advisory fee calculated at the annual rates set forth in the fee schedules below.

Investment Advisory Fee Schedule

Assets Managed	Annual Fee
Amount up to $1,000,000	0.85%
From $1,000,001 to $2,000,000	0.70%

Amount in excess of $3,000,000	0.45%
Additional Account Establishment Fee (first year only)	$400 per quarter

Fees are paid quarterly in arrears, Fees are due on the first day of the calendar quarter, and are based on the account's asset value as of the average daily balance of the previous calendar quarter.

The fee schedule for 401(k) plan sponsor consulting is as follows:

401(k) Plan Sponsor Consulting Fee Schedule

Assets Managed	Annual Fee
Amount up to $2,000,000 If assets are less than $2,000,000, the plan will be billed at a rate of $2,500 per quarter until such time that plan assets support the minimum	$10,000 per annum Minimum 401(k) fee

Minimum Annual Retainer	$3,200

All advisory fees are paid quarterly, and calculated at the end of each quarter. Assets are valued based on security pricing provided by the account custodian. Fees are deducted directly from client's brokerage account for payments to Conlon Dart unless Conlon Dart agrees to do otherwise. If assets are deposited after the inception of the quarter, the account fee payable with respect to such assets is prorated based upon the number of days remaining in the three-month period. Conlon Dart prepares a detailed fee calculation summary each quarter that is included in each Client's quarterly report.

Compensation is received by Conlon Dart after services have been rendered. Conlon Dart may, at its discretion, accept a lower fee schedule and/or waive fees. Conlon Dart or the client may terminate the management agreement within five days of the date of acceptance without penalty to the client. After the five day period, either party may terminate the agreement upon written notice to the other party.

In addition to quarterly advisory fees, the account may be assessed transaction charges associated with trade execution. All such costs will be deducted from Client's account by the designated custodian as broker for such transactions. All such fees and charges will be noted on Client's monthly brokerage statements and/or trade confirmations.

Clients who are invested in mutual funds will also be subject to each mutual fund's own investment management fees. Accounts may be subject to custodial fees and other incidental charges not identified here.

Supplementary Information – Fees & Compensation

Conlon Dart, at its sole discretion, maintains the right to negotiate advisory fees, as well as 'grandfather' advisory fees under certain circumstances.

Financial Planning Services

Assuming investment minimums are met, Financial Planning services are offered to clients at no additional cost. However, Conlon Dart reserves the right to bill separately for more complex planning work.

As referenced previously, Conlon Dart will accept Financial Planning engagements for individuals who are not ongoing investment management clients on a case-by-case basis. These engagements are standalone, meaning they are limited in scope and not ongoing. Services are billed either as a fixed fee or on an hourly basis. When billed hourly, fees are calculated using the billing rates of the person(s) providing services. Our current rates range from $100 per hour for staff to $300 per hour for principals.

ITEM 6: PERFORMANCE BASED FEES

Conlon Dart does not charge any performance-based fees.

ITEM 7: TYPES OF CLIENTS

Conlon Dart offers its services to individuals, corporate pension and profit-sharing plans, trusts and estates, and business entities. The vast majority of the firm's clients are individuals and families.

The minimum portfolio for new clients is $500,000. This may be comprised of multiple accounts, including individual or joint holdings, IRAs, 401(k) and profit sharing plans, trusts, and accounts held for minors among others.

At its discretion, Conlon Dart may make certain exceptions to minimum portfolio requirements for family members of existing clients.

ITEM 8: METHODS OF ANALYSIS, INVESTMENT STRATEGIES, & RISK OF LOSS

Methods of Analysis

Conlon Dart relies upon fundamental investment analysis, qualitative analysis, evaluation of economic factors, and broad market trends when assessing investment opportunities. A broad range of sources are utilized to support our decision making process, including information sourced from financial data reporting services, credit rating services, annual reports and prospectuses, independent economic and security level research, financial periodicals, mutual fund data management and research services, and information published by mutual fund companies, including fund level research, published commentaries and conference calls.

As with investing in general, there are significant risks involved with the above methods of analysis. For example, fundamental analysis, which considers a range of financial and economic factors, does not attempt to predict market movements. Therefore, a security may lose value along with the overall market regardless of other factors considered when evaluating that security. With qualitative analysis, where we consider strength of research and quality of management, a significant risk is simply that our subjective judgment proves incorrect.

Investment Strategy

Conlon Dart's investment strategy emphasizes diversification amongst a broad range of asset classes. Rather than focus primarily on security selection, we seek to identify an appropriate mix of equity securities, fixed income and cash suitable for each client's investment goals and risk tolerance.

Our investment strategy incorporates aspects of Modern Portfolio Theory, which attempts to maximize a portfolio's expected return for a given amount of portfolio risk, by carefully choosing the proportion of various asset classes. Also influencing our portfolio construction strategy is the Fama-French four factor model, which argues that higher risk stocks, or those with a high book to market ratio commonly called value stocks, as well as small cap stocks, outperform their respective growth and large cap peers over time. Conlon Dart incorporates both actively managed and passively managed investment strategies (typically through index funds) into each investment portfolio. Domestic and international stock and bond mutual funds, exchange traded funds, individual bonds and money funds are our primary investment tools.

For equity focused mutual funds, among other factors, we consider the following:

- Style – value versus growth bias
- Market Capitalization – blending of large, mid and small cap holdings
- Sector Allocations – exposure to various sectors, including financials, healthcare, telecom, etc.
- Investment Correlations – how strongly a holding moves with or against the S&P 500 Index.

For fixed income holdings, we consider various risk factors, including credit quality, portfolio duration, global exposure, asset class mix, and inflation protection.

Implementation

Each client is taken through a detailed financial planning and risk assessment process to help determine an appropriate risk level for their portfolio. Generally speaking, portfolios are segmented to include a suitable level of equity exposure, with the remainder held in bonds, bond focused mutual funds and cash. Portfolios are reviewed periodically, and re-balanced as needed, but no less than once per year. Conlon Dart generally invests in securities that are highly liquid and marketable. We follow a buy and hold approach, and keep trading to a minimum when possible. We believe that limited trading, combined with the use of passively managed investment strategies, help to reduce costs associated with trading fees and portfolio taxation. With respect to taxation, we implement tax-loss harvesting principles to enhance the portfolio's tax efficiency when practical.

Risk of Loss

While mutual funds tend to benefit from broad diversification, individual fund holdings can be highly risky. Emerging market stock, small cap funds, and mutual funds with concentrated portfolios (relative lack of diversification) are examples of funds that can lose considerable value given certain negative market conditions. Bond holdings can also carry significant risk, even when owned through a diversified mutual fund. Mutual funds focused on high yield (low credit quality) bonds or global holdings with emerging market debt are two examples of higher risk bond focused securities. In addition to security level risk, each holding will be subject to varying levels of economic, credit, political, inflationary, and currency risk, each of which can have a sizable impact on a portfolio's return.

Different types of investments involve varying degrees of risk. There is no guarantee that the future performance of any specific investment or investment strategy will be profitable or successfully equal or succeed a specific performance target. It is possible that your investment will lose value even when weighted towards bonds and other fixed income assets.

ITEM 9: DISCIPLINARY INFORMATION

Neither the firm nor any of its advisors have been the subject of events that resulted in disciplinary action from regulators, courts, or the Certified Financial Planner Board of Standards.

ITEM 10: OTHER FINANCIAL INDUSTRY ACTIVITIES & AFFILIATIONS

Our firm and our related persons are not engaged in other financial industry activities and have no other industry affiliations.

ITEM 11: CODE OF ETHICS

Our firm has adopted a Code of Ethics which sets forth high ethical standards of business conduct that we require of our employees, including compliance with applicable federal securities laws.

Conlon Dart and our personnel owe a duty of loyalty, fairness and good faith towards our clients, and have an obligation to adhere not only to the specific provisions of the Code of Ethics but to the general principles that guide the Code.

Our code of Ethics includes policies and procedures for review of quarterly securities transaction reports as well as initial and annual securities holdings reports that must be submitted by the firm's access persons. Among other things, our Code of Ethics also requires the prior approval of any acquisition of securities in a limited offering (e.g. private placement) or an initial public offering. Our code also provides for oversight, enforcement and record keeping provisions.

Conlon Dart's Code of Ethics further includes the firm's policy prohibiting the use of material non-public information. While we do not believe that we have any particular access to non-public information, all employees are reminded that such information may not be used in a personal or professional capacity.

Conlon Dart and individuals associated with our firm are prohibited from engaging in agency cross transactions.

Our Code of Ethics is designed to assure that the personal securities transactions, activities and interests of our employees will not interfere with (i) making decisions in the best interest of advisory clients and (ii) implementing such decisions while, at the same time, allowing employees to invest for their own accounts.

Our firm and/or individuals associated with our firm may buy or sell for their personal accounts securities identical to or different from those recommended to our clients. In addition, any related person(s) may have an interest or position in a certain security(ies) which may also be recommended to a client. It is the expressed policy of our firm that no person employed by us may purchase or sell any security prior to a transaction(s) being implemented for an advisory account, thereby preventing such employee(s) from benefiting from transactions placed on behalf of advisory accounts.

We may aggregate our employee trades with client transactions where possible and when compliant with our duty to seek best execution for our clients. In these instances, participating clients will receive an average share price and transaction costs will be shared equally and on a pro-rata basis. In these instances where there is a partial fill of a particular batched order, we will allocate purchases pro-rata, with each account paying the average price. Our employee accounts will be included in the pro-rata allocation.

As these situations represent actual or potential conflicts of interest to our clients, we have established the following policies and procedures applicable to all staff. At its core, the code emphasizes the importance of complying with all applicable federal securities laws. The general principles behind the code include:

- Personnel shall place client interests first
- Personnel shall never take advantage of their positions
- Personnel shall keep all client information regarding securities holdings confidential in accordance with Conlon Dart's Privacy Policy

Conlon Dart will provide a copy of its Code of Ethics to any client or prospective client upon request.

Conlon Dart or its associates may buy or sell for itself investment products recommended to clients. However, it is the express policy of Conlon Dart that no associated person may purchase or sell a security prior to a similar transaction being implemented for an advisory account. Records are maintained of all securities bought or sold by Conlon Dart, associated persons or related persons and are reviewed each quarter by the firm's Chief Compliance Officer. Such records are made available for client inspection upon request. Contact Mitchell P. Conlon at 206.728.0222 for more information.

ITEM 12: BROKERAGE PRACTICES

Conlon Dart recommends brokers to clients, including Schwab Institutional (Schwab) and Fidelity Institutional Wealth Services (Fidelity). When selecting brokers, none of which are affiliated with Conlon Dart, we consider a broad range of factors, including financial strength, quality of their services, trade execution capabilities, products provided and trading expenses.

Conlon Dart may recommend brokers who charge commissions in excess of the lowest available commissions in recognition of the value of products or services provided by the broker/dealer to Conlon Dart. Such products and services may include access to proprietary research systems, access to third party providers of pricing and performance information, and discounts on software applications.

Additional services may include group discounts on computer hardware and other business related expenditures.

Certain of these support services and/or products may assist Conlon Dart in managing and administering client portfolios. Others do not directly provide such assistance, but may help in managing and developing Conlon Dart's overall business enterprise.

Conlon Dart periodically reviews the services and costs provided by its brokerage firms to determine if costs and services are provided at a level that outweigh costs to move accounts to another brokerage firm.

Advisor places trades for its clients' accounts subject to its duty to seek best execution and its other fiduciary duties. Advisor may use broker-dealers other than Schwab and Fidelity to execute trades for client accounts maintained at Schwab and Fidelity, but this practice may result in additional costs to clients so that Advisor is more likely to place trades through Schwab and Fidelity rather than other broker-dealers. Both Schwab's and Fidelity's execution quality may be different than other broker-dealers.

Some of the products, services and other benefits provided by Schwab and Fidelity, benefit Advisor and may not benefit Advisor's client accounts. Advisor's recommendation or requirement that a client place assets in Schwab's or Fidelity's custody may be based in part on benefits each provides to Advisor, or Advisor's agreement to maintain certain Assets Under Management at either custodian, and not solely on the nature, cost or quality of custody and execution services provided.

Trade Aggregation

Conlon Dart primarily invests in mutual funds, which trade at one price at the end of each business day. Other securities such as stocks, bonds, or ETFs may trade at different prices throughout the day. For securities that trade throughout the day, Conlon Dart attempts to aggregate orders together when possible so that clients receive the same average price. This is done to minimize potential conflicts of interest or favoritism based on portfolio size or other factors. While it is typically not possible to conduct a single trade for all such client positions, we do aggregate such trades when available.

ITEM 13: REVIEW OF ACCOUNTS

Portfolios are reviewed periodically, but no less frequently than annually. Reviews include monitoring of asset allocations to each of cash, fixed income and equity components. Regular monitoring is performed to determine whether such portfolio allocations are being maintained within certain range tolerances. More targeted reviews are also initiated periodically to address different levels of analysis. Included in this process are fixed income reviews; equity reviews; portfolio re-balancing; and tax-loss harvesting (as needed). Portfolios are reviewed as needed to address significant cash inflows/outflows and to initiate portfolio trades.

Portfolio Reviewers:

Mitchell P. Conlon, Partner

Stephen H. Dart, Partner

Rick M. Bryan, Senior Adviser, Partner

Joseph C. Boden, Senior Adviser, Partner

In addition, Mr. Conlon & Mr. Dart review portfolios periodically in conjunction with our regular portfolio reporting process.

Quarterly reports are supplied to all clients providing specific positions and performance information. Additionally, clients receive a monthly brokerage report detailing positions and account activity.

ITEM 14: CLIENT REFERRALS & OTHER COMPENSATIONS

Conlon Dart does not compensate outside of the firm for the referral of new clients.

ITEM 15: CUSTODY

Conlon Dart does not maintain actual or constructive custody of client assets. Instead, funds are held with an outside brokerage firm such as Schwab or Fidelity. Clients receive regular monthly statements and online access to their accounts directly from the custodians.

Clients should carefully review statements from the custodian firms as well as their 401(k) or other plans and compare the figures with the quarterly reports provided by Conlon Dart. Any discrepancies should be addressed with Conlon Dart staff immediately.

ITEM 16: INVESTMENT DISCRETION

In most instances, Conlon Dart maintains limited discretionary trading authority over accounts. This is noted and agreed to within each Client's investment advisory and instructed within their brokerage account application.

Advisory agreements with 401(k) plan sponsors are, in most instances, non-discretionary. We do not accept full discretionary authority or full power of attorney on behalf of clients.

ITEM 17: VOTING CLIENT SECURITIES

Conlon Dart does not vote proxies on clients' behalf, nor does it have written authority to do so.

ITEM 18: FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Conlon Dart does not require or solicit prepayment of more than $1,200 in fees per client, six months or more in advance. Conlon Dart bills in arrears and is exempt from the requirement to include a current balance sheet in this document.

Conlon Dart is not subject to bankruptcy.
